- (g) order that any excepted joint owner's share to be paid to the person or their designate;
- (h) where applicable, the order is to include provisions for an authority to make application within thirty days of the sale of the qualifying property or group of qualifying properties to vary the restraint order to permit the qualifying property to be sold and its proceeds held; and
- (i) the order shall include conditions for an authority to lawfully register the property in the name of the purchaser and transfer legal title to the person.

(2) Pursuant to subsection (1)(f) the interest rates applicable will be the prevailing savings rate as fixed by the Bermuda Monetary Authority.

Functions of an authority

52G In the exercise of its functions under this Part, an authority shall liaise with the Unit to—

- (a) arrange and facilitate the sale of property subject to section 52H;
- (b) keep appropriate records of the sale process for a period of seven years;
- (c) ensure transparency in the valuation and sale process;
- (d) perform any other duties prescribed by the Minister.

PROCEEDS OF CRIME AMENDMENT ACT 2026

Preservation sale process

52H (1) Notwithstanding, section 52F (1)(c), the other authorities may upon consultation with the Attorney General delegate the process of arranging the sale in accordance with this Act of the qualifying property to another authority or private entity that it considers suitable to carry out the requirements of the preservation sale order.

(2) Pursuant to section 52F (1)(d)(i) an online sale is where members of the public can browse or view the qualifying property, bid, and pay for the qualifying property online.

(3) Pursuant to 52F (1)(d)(ii) a private treaty sale is where the seller sets the price for the item and negotiates with interested parties the final selling price.

(4) Pursuant to 52F (1)(d)(iii) a public auction is one where members of the public have right of access and where the auction of the qualifying property is advertised to the public with at least seven days' notice.

(5) Pursuant to 52F (1)(d)(iv) a public tender is one where members of the public are invited to submit bids on the advertised qualifying property.

(6) Pursuant to 52F (1)(d)(v)—

- (a) a sealed bid sale allows members of the public to view the qualifying property online or in person and then submit their bid by post or electronic mail; and
- (b) the invitation for the bid shall contain the qualifying property descriptions, sale terms and conditions, its location, inspection times, and bid form.

Gross sale price

52I For the purposes of 52F (1)(e)(i) the gross sale price is the sale price realised not considering any fees or taxes incurred during the sale process.

Consent order

52J (1) A person with interest in a qualifying property, including the person from whom the property was seized, restraint or detained may upon application of an authority for a preservation sale order, consent to the application for sale of the qualifying property.

(2) The consent of any person with interest in the qualifying property shall be made in accordance with the prescribed form where the person is the second respondent or the prescribed form for any other person with interest in the qualifying property.

(3) The court shall give effect to the prescribed consent form on its merit if it is—

- (a) signed by the second respondent and where applicable any other person with interest in the qualifying property; and

PROCEEDS OF CRIME AMENDMENT ACT 2026

- (b) witnessed and signed with the full name of one of the following persons—
 - (i) a Justice of Peace who is not a law enforcement officer;
 - (ii) the barrister and attorney for the person giving consent;
 - (iii) a Notary Public; or
 - (iv) the Registrar of the Supreme Court.
- (4) The applicant is to file with the court supporting documentation showing that the conditions above were met.
- (5) The supporting documentation in subparagraph (4) refers to—
 - (a) the completed consent form;
 - (b) a certified copy of the photo identification of the second respondent or where applicable any other person with interest in the qualifying property; and
 - (c) any other document evidencing the authenticity of the consent form.

Hearing the application for a preservation sale order

52K (1) Pursuant to sections 52D and 52E, the hearing of an application for a preservation sale order shall be heard in Chambers.

(2) Pursuant to section 52I, the court may hear an application and issue a preservation sale order where any interested party or the person from whom the depreciating property was seized or restrained has signed a consent order.

(3) The court may proceed to issue a preservation sale order of any interested party or the person from whom the depreciating property was seized or restrained where the court considers that service was effected and no objection was filed in accordance with the prescribed form with the court contesting the application to issue a preservation sale order.

(4) A person having an interest in the property may make submissions to the court regarding the effects that the issue of a preservation sale order would have on him.

(5) The court shall not issue a preservation sale order if it believes that to do so would be disproportionate or unjust either for the person in respect of whom the restraint order was made or any other person who has an interest in the qualifying property.

(6) Subject to subsection (5), where the court finds that granting an application for sale would be disproportionate, unjust or where the conditions in section 52F are not met, the court may exercise its discretion to—

PROCEEDS OF CRIME AMENDMENT ACT 2026

- (a) return the property to the second respondent with conditions for preservation including maintaining insurance, licensing and regular maintenance of the qualified property;
- (b) appoint a receiver in accordance with section 28 or 36L;
- (c) release the property to the second respondent upon payment of a sum of the equivalent value of the qualified property; or
- (d) any other order the court considers fit including social reuse of the qualifying property.

Preservation sale order where the second respondent absconds or dies

52L (1) In accordance with section 22 with the necessary modifications and amendments, the court may grant a preservation sale order where the second respondent absconds or dies.

(2) All references in sections 22 to the Director of Public Prosecutions should read the authority.

(3) In any proceedings for an application for sale order under this section—

- (a) section 52J shall not apply;
- (b) the court shall not make an order for sale of the qualifying property against a person who has absconded, unless it is satisfied that the provisions in 52C have been met.

Lapse of a preservation sale order

52M (1) Pursuant to section 52F, the preservation sale order lapses if the sale of a qualifying property does not take place within one hundred and eighty days of the date of the preservation sale order.

(2) The calculation of the days does not include public holidays.

(3) The lapse of a preservation sale order pursuant to this section does not preclude an authority from making a further application for a preservation sale order for the same qualifying property.

(4) The court may grant a further application for a preservation sale order under this Act by an authority where the court considers it reasonable to do so.

Reasonable costs

52N (1) For the purposes of section 52I(1)(f), an authority shall within thirty days of the sale of the qualifying property apply to the court with a schedule of reasonable costs for approval by the court.

(2) Where the court has approved a reasonable cost, the court shall authorise the costs as it considers to be reasonable to be paid from the sale of the qualifying property to those authorities that have incurred costs during the process of the sale.

(3) The total value of reasonable costs shall not exceed ten percent of the gross sale price of the qualifying property and all other cost shall be satisfied by the Crown.

(4) An authority and any other public authorities are precluded from receiving costs from the sale of the qualifying property for the exercise of their functions under this Part.

Application of sale proceeds

52O (1) The proceeds of a preservation sale order obtained under this section, and any accrued interest, shall be paid into the Fund within sixty days of the sale.

(2) The court may, upon an application by the second respondent or interested person made in accordance with the prescribed form order that the proceeds from the sale along with the interest be paid over to the second respondent when the qualifying property has concluded and—

- (a) the second respondent is acquitted on all counts;
- (b) the indictment or charge is withdrawn against the second respondent;
- (c) the conviction is quashed; or
- (d) all recovery proceedings against the second respondent or against the qualifying property have concluded in the second respondent's favour.

(3) The amount to be paid over under this section shall be such as the court thinks just in all the circumstances of the case.

(4) The court shall not order the proceeds from the sale to be paid over unless the court is satisfied by either of the parties that any criminal or civil recovery proceedings, in any relation to the second respondent or the qualifying property has concluded.

(5) At the conclusion of any successful recovery proceedings by the Crown in relation to the qualifying property the sums shall be applied as stipulated in the instrument under which the recovery proceedings are initiated.

(6) An order under this section shall be in the prescribed form.

Regulations for this Part

52P The Minister may make regulations under this Part for the following matters—

- (a) the storage of seized, detained or restrained assets;

PROCEEDS OF CRIME AMENDMENT ACT 2026

- (b) the management and maintenance of seized, detained or restrained assets;
- (c) the sale of seized, detained or restrained assets;
- (d) the allocation of the proceeds of the qualifying property; and
- (e) any other matters the Minister may consider appropriate to further the purposes of this Part. ”.

PROCEEDS OF CRIME AMENDMENT ACT 2026

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

This Bill seeks to amend the Proceeds of Crime Act 1997 to provide an improved regime for asset recovery and asset management in Bermuda and for providing the mechanism for victim compensation, and preservation of property. The Government finds that the establishment of a separate unit for the better administration of asset recovery and management would enable Bermuda to meet its various international obligations, will improve efficiency, and will ensure victims can be compensated more effectively.

Therefore, this amendment seeks to—

(a) make provisions for the court to issue a preservation sale order where a property is a depreciating property or the cost of management is disproportionate to its value, to ensure that assets do not lose significant value before final court decisions;

(b) establish the Asset Recovery and Management Unit (hereafter the Unit) in the Ministry of Justice to provide for the effective administration of the various mechanism and processes for the recovery, preservation, management, realisation and disposal of property under this Act;

(c) provide for the appointment of a Director and officers of the Unit and for the engagement of experts, advisers and consultants to assist the Unit in the conduct of its duties, functions and responsibilities;

(d) impose the functions of the Unit including to collaborate with authorities;

(e) provide that the court may appoint the officers of the Unit as receivers, interim receiver or trustee for civil recovery;

(f) provide that no compensation is to be paid to officers of the Unit who are appointed by the court as receiver, interim receiver or trustee for civil recovery;

(g) impose a duty to preserve property in the administrative custody of the Unit;

(h) provide for the submission of annual reports on the activities of the Unit to each House of the Legislature;

(i) provide the process through which victims within and outside the jurisdiction may apply for compensation for loss suffered as a result of the relevant criminal conduct, unlawful conduct or conduct giving rise to forfeiture and for the court to direct how a compensation order is to be paid;

PROCEEDS OF CRIME AMENDMENT ACT 2026

(j)provide for making of regulations on property management, disposal procedures, claims and asset registers;

(k)provide for additional deposits in the form of grants and appropriations to be paid into the Confiscated Asset Fund; and

(l)make provision for additional payments to be made out of the Confiscated Asset Fund.

Clause 1 provides for the citation of the Bill;

Clause 2 amends the interpretation provision by adding new definitions;

Clause 3 amends section 27(3) to clarify that the provision applies where the court is satisfied that a criminal investigation has commenced with regard to a drug trafficking or relevant offence, where an application for a restraint order is made to the court and where it appears to the court that a confiscation order or a forfeiture order may be made in any proceedings for the offence.

Clause 4 inserts a new Part IIIB which provides for the establishment of the Unit for the effective administration of the various mechanisms and processes for the recovery, preservation, management, realisation and disposal of property under the Act; provides that the Unit will comprise of a Director, Deputy Director and other officers; for the engagement of experts and advisers; provides the functions of the Unit; that officers of the Unit may be appointed as receiver, interim receiver or trustee for civil recovery; no compensation for officers of the Unit appointed as receiver, etc.; establishes relationship between the Unit and an authority; administrative taking over of properties by the Unit; protection of action taken in good faith by officers of the Unit; Director to report conflict of interest to the Minister; immunity and protection from liability against loss for Director and officers of the Unit; coordination with other countries in the seizure, forfeiture or confiscation of properties; submission of annual report on work of the Unit; and power to make regulations.

Clause 5 inserts a new Part VIA which provides for the imposition of preservation sale orders where a property is a depreciating property or the cost of management is disproportionate to its value, to ensure that assets do not lose significant value before final court decisions by providing the application process for a court preservation sale order; the conditions for granting a preservation order; applying the conditions; the contents of a preservation sale order; provides the functions of the various authorities; the preservation sale process; provides for calculation of the gross sale price; provides for the consent order; the hearing of the application for a preservation sale order; the preservation sale order where the second respondent absconds or dies; the lapse of a preservation sale order; provides for allocation of reasonable costs by the court; provides for how the sale proceeds are to be applied and provides for the making of regulations .

Clause 6 also inserts a new Part VIB which provides a framework for the determination of compensation for victims where a person, whether a victim within Bermuda or a victim outside Bermuda who has suffered loss as a result of the relevant criminal conduct, unlawful conduct or conduct giving rise to forfeiture by providing for when a compensation order can be made; how a person is to apply for compensation; that the requisite notice shall be given; provides for the court to issue direction for the payment of a compensation order to be paid out of the recovered amount, before the remainder of the recovered amount is paid into the Confiscated Asset Fund and provides for regulations, and transitional provision.

Clause 7 repeals and replaces section 54A to improve the process for the retention of funds and the sharing of funds where an external recovery order or an external forfeiture order was made.

Clause 8 amends section 55A by providing for additional sources of funds to be paid into the Confiscated Asset Fund to include grants and appropriations and to provide for additional expenses to be paid from the Confiscated Asset Fund to include meeting the expenses of the Unit, expenses for preserving and disposing of property under Part IIIB, to meet remuneration, allowances, advances and expenses payable to experts, advisers or consultants engaged under this Act; to meet the maintenance and insurance cost of property subject to be maintained under this Act; and to meet legal fees and expenses.

Clause 9 amends section 65 to extend the provision to cover the newly established Unit.

Clause 10 provides for a consequential amendment to the Anti-Terrorism (Financial and Other Measures) Act 2004 to align it with the new asset recovery and victim compensation framework by ensuring the rights of third parties are protected and that the new asset recovery and compensation mechanisms apply consistently to anti-terrorism cases.

Clause 11 provides a consequential amendment of the Criminal Code Act 1970 to ensure that property subject to deprivation orders under the Criminal Code Act 1970 will be disposed of by administrative arrangements to be made by the Unit.

Clause 12 is transitional and provides that properties that are under seizure, forfeiture or confiscation and liable to be disposed under this Act, shall on the date as notified by the Minister, to be transferred for administrative custody to the Unit.

Clause 13 provides for the coming into force of the Act.
